MAN'S HUMANITY TO MAN
Kenneth B. Woodard, whose son was one of two Albany youths killed in the tragic accident last Friday night, spent the afternoon at Herrick Hospital going from bed to bed to see the three survivors. "I wanted to see them all, I love them, that I don't hate in my heart and I want them to drop around me as soon as they are able," Mr. Woodard said. He was delighted that the boys are recovering well.

LOOK A LIE DETECTOR test was given at Oakland Police Department. What a traumatic experience even in fun! By the time we hooked you up, pumped up, given you instructions, had everything in order, we were ready to collapse. Our Chief Ralph Jensen was running up a month-long course in detecting, so we had to get a new picture. A new sub was all the graduates needed, he consented to the basic card routine. You pick one out of a dozen, then answer no matter what it was the one picked. Of course, you are asked about one—and it shows on the machine. The new experts become sold on the lie detector. "If you're ever accused of a crime, demand the lie detector test," one said. "That is whether you are innocent or guilty, particularly if you are innocent."

ALL GARDEN dusted off an old film for the School Bond sale last Tuesday night. It was a film in Albany about 1935, in groups of school children, very first MacGregor Day. (Continued on Page 7)

TWO ALBANY YOUTHS DIE FOLLOWING MARIN CRASH

Robert G. Patterson

Kenneth L. Woodard

Two Albany youths, Robert G. Patterson of 1034 Ordway and Kenneth L. Woodard of 1014 Ramona, are dead as a result of an auto accident at Marin and Modoc in Berkeley shortly after 10 p.m. Friday night, when three other occupants of the same car received serious injuries.

Robert G. Patterson, 19, son of Marjorie R. and Robert B. Patterson, died at Herrick Hospital at midnight. Kenneth Lyle Woodard, 20, son of Lillian and Kenneth B. Woodard, died of severe head injuries about 9 p.m. Saturday night.

Larry A. McNeal, 19, of 1212 Marin, driving his father's car, reportedly was traveling west on Marin Avenue when his car crashed into a parked car belonging to Harry Weaver of 1157 Marin. The impact of the collision pushed Weaver's car 50 feet forward. McNeal's car careened 82 feet into the middle of the Marin and Modoc intersection.

Patterson, sitting in the right front seat, was thrown against the dashboard. He died of internal injuries. Woodard, who was in the left rear seat, was thrown across the front seat and through the right side of the windshield, suffering fatal head injuries.

McNeal suffered a fractured leg and arm. Others still hospitalized at Herrick Hospital are James P. Krasovich, 19, of 612 San Carlos, fractured left hip, and William Jorgensen, 19, of Oakland, extensive scalp injuries when thrown "half out" of the windshield, according to Berkeley police.

While there seems to be no explanation for the tragedy, it has saddened the entire community, whose sympathy goes out to the families of the dead and injured, all of whom were graduates of Albany High School.

KENNETH LYLE WOODARD
Funeral services for Kenneth Lyle Woodard will be conducted at Ellis-Olson chapel, 727 San Pablo Avenue, at 11 a.m. this morning by the Rev. William A. McMahon of the Church of Nazarene in Berkeley. Interment will follow at Sunset View cemetery.

Kenneth and Linda Nivola of Albany planned to be married Nov. 8. Several showers had been held and many invitations had gone out, his father said.

A native of Albany, he was born May 2, 1944, at Alta Bates Hospital. He had lived at 1014 Ramona all his life with his par-

Will The Bond Fail Again?

By Greg deGiere, AHS Senior

What will become of Albany High School if the voters of the city fail to provide new facilities? Will the staff and administration be able to maintain the present adequate academic standards? Will future AHS graduates have an equal basis from which to compete with graduates of other schools, either in college or in jobs? Will the Albany schools be able to continue on the present low tax rate?

These are questions every student, parent, and taxpayer in Albany must ask himself as a new school building proposal goes before the voters of the city.

The benefits of the proposed buildings are evident to anyone who knows the plans and the present situation: the music, science, shop, art and home economics facilities to be provided will be put to immediate beneficial use, and the future lecture hall-little theater will be a positive influence for the whole city. But what if the new bond proposal fails as did two previous elections?

Albany has a good school system now, and if we could leave it as it is, we might continue "to get by." Changes are important, but we could muddle along if we had no alternative.

But can we afford to be satisfied with that which was good enough 20 years ago?

Schools, like other institutions, can not remain static for long; they must either grow or die. Death can come slowly, but it must surely come to every institution that has stopped growing.

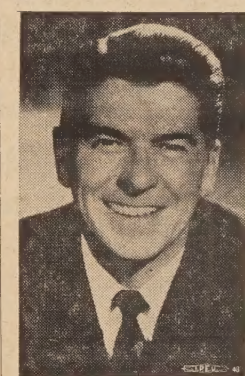

If a school building program for Albany High School is not adopted soon, our present decline will be accelerated. As the costs of maintaining second-rate facilities grow, the amount spent on education directly, and on teachers' salaries, will shrink. Good teachers can not be expected to stay at a second-class school with low salaries. Tax increases will again become necessary, even to maintain the temporary facilities. The young people of Albany will no longer have a fair chance after high school.

Those will be the consequences of another failure at the polls. Albany has one more chance: what will we do with it?

Ronald Reagan to Make Personal Appearance At Rally in Park Saturday

Handsomeness and TV star Ronald Reagan will spend several hours in Albany Saturday, Oct. 24, appearing in a parade at noon down Solano and as featured speaker at what may become a star-studded political rally in Memorial Park beginning at 12:30 p.m.

The old-fashioned rally is being sponsored by Albany Citizens for Goldwater-Miller, headed by Joel W. Parker, Jr., chairman of Albany Citizens for Goldwater; Edmund White, chairman of Albany Democrats for Goldwater, and Bill Davis as rally chairman.

Reagan, California co-chairman of Citizens for Goldwater, is a friendly, charming person and an eloquent speaker. Many Albany residents met him at a recent meeting at the Tunderbird Motel near San Francisco airport. He accepted the invitation of Jim Royals and Bill Davises to speak in Albany before the election.

In addition to Reagan's address, the rally will feature musical entertainment, a rock and roll band and folk singing. There will be a refreshment booth, but families may bring their own picnic lunches if they prefer, Davis said.

AIR POLLUTION OFFICIALS DRAW COUNCIL FIRE ON DUMP BLAZE

The imperious manner in which officials of Bay Area Air Pollution Control District treated members of Albany's Fire Department and Public Works Department during the six-day blaze at Albany dump prompted angry comment by a councilman at the meeting Monday night.

After working "around the clock" from last Tuesday night until the fire was put out Monday afternoon, city employees and the operator of the dump were confused and angered by conflicting orders from individual members of the pollution control district.

Councilman Lew Howell opened the subject by moving that letters of commendation be sent the two departments for their successful efforts during the fire,

"in which the City of Albany was in no way at fault."

"It was accidental," the councilman said.

Then Howell drew a bead on the air pollution control board, "which keeps asking the legislature for a tax increase for more help, yet could send eight or nine representatives here to criticize what was being done."

"I don't think one of them is capable of telling our fire department what to do," Howell added, moving that a meeting with representatives of the board be set up to determine "exactly what they expect from us."

Advice—Not Demand

Later in the meeting, D. J. Callaghan, chief administrative officer of Bay Area Air Pollution Control District, appeared, assuring the council there is no problem as far as the district is concerned. He said the Fire Department did a "good job for Albany . . . an exceptionally fine job of cooperating with the air pollution control office." He added he was sure it was all a misunderstanding . . . "the dump operator asked one of our experts for a suggestion. When asked, we give our best advice . . . not a demand, but advice or suggestion. . . . This was relayed as sort of a command."

"Fire in this dump contributed to smog," Callaghan added. "Our job is to curtail smog as much as possible." He said at most they had five people in Albany.

Howell continued his objections, wondering about the caliber of people who would give Administrative Officer James B. Turner and Fire Chief Gerald Browne "until Tuesday to put that fire out." He complained the district has "too many people giving orders," repeated his request for a work session to clarify "who we talk to." (The meeting is to be set up.)

The dump fire discussion followed a heated exchange between Councilmen and two members of the audience who said the Board of Education and Albany Fire Department are not providing fire and panic safety for Albany school children.

All Fired Up

When Callaghan rose to speak, Mayor George Hein said, "We'd like to hear your complaints about the Fire Department. We're all 'fired up' tonight."

Stanley Wilkins and George Johansen, both intimating that the Board of Education and Fire Department have not done their duty in providing safe schools for Albany children, drew scathing replies from Councilmen, who referred their complaints about lack of enforcement to Fire Chief Browne for a report to the Council next Monday.

Wilkins displayed a frayed piece of cloth, which he explained he had picked up at Cornell School auditorium last April as (Continued on Page 7)

Three Legionnaires Honored by Post

LeRoy W. Holland, Carl H. Waters, and C. Edward Johnson have been given the highest honor an American Legion post can confer—that of Life Membership.

The awards were presented for the outstanding interest and work of the veterans since joining Albany post 292. This includes not only service to the local post, but for the welfare of the American Legion in general.

Holland, veteran of service in the 33rd Division during World War II, is a past commander of the post and manager-sergeant of Albany post's state champion senior color guard.

Waters, a veteran of World War I, is past commander of Albany post and of a post in Illinois. He is currently finance officer.

Johnson, navy veteran of World War II, has been the posts service officer for more than 10 years.

Ceremonies investing the men with their silver life membership cards will be held on a date to be announced.

Election Theme For Alberito Session Tuesday

Mrs. Vivian Satcher of the League of Women Voters was featured speaker for the Alberito Club of Business and Professional Women at their monthly dinner meeting last night at the Palm Garden, Albany.

President of Alberito Club Jean Y. Petersen, welcomed new member Irene MacWilliams and introduced other guests and future members in the absence of Membership Chairman May Ellis Olson.

Aletha Owens, Legislation Chairman arranged the evening's program to coincide with the coming election. Mrs. Owens was assisted by her committee, Mildred Barrett, Dolores Plant, Edith Clark and Hazel Karns.

The Federation of Business and Professional Women is an international organization dedicated to the advancement of women with special emphasis placed on legislation and women in public office.

STUBBORN BLAZE — Members of Albany Fire Department, employees of the Public Works Department, the operator of Albany dump and worried city officials kept a 24-hour a day watch on a stubborn blaze at the dump at the foot of Buchanan, which broke out last Tuesday about 6 p.m. and was not put out until Monday afternoon. Vince Nicora is shown operating the Caterpillar and Fire Capt. Ray Gonzales is with the hose in this photo, taken last Friday. Chief Gerald Browne took personal charge of the fire-fighting operation.

Albany Youths Attacked
Albany police bulletin lists two separate cases of attacks upon Albany youths.
On Oct. 17, Howard Hawk, 17, of 623 San Pablo was driving on Masonic when a car pulled in front, forcing him to stop. He was dragged from the car, knocked to the ground and kicked, he reported, displaying a missing lower tooth, reddened area near his left eye and blood on his lips.
The following night, Rex Kemp, 14, of 916 Taylor was cutting through the vacant lot near El Cerrito Plaza when three juveniles followed him. After asking his name and where he was going, they tripped him and pinned him to the ground. One took a knife from his pocket, ripped the Albany boy's shirt and held the point of the knife to his stomach, occasionally jabbing him. Then he ran the flat of knif up and down Rex's stomach in an attempt to terrorize the boy. They felt for a billfold and finding many local scenes and is sponsored by local merchants, some of whom are no longer among us. Those who saw it were enchanted. Bill promises to show it again soon with proper advance notice, so those who were around then may see themselves in pictures.

HELEN BAUM from up Ordway way was among those who took instruction from and played with the fabulous Patty Berg at Richmond last Thursday. The renowned golfer held the clinic at Richmond Golf and Country Club. On Friday, at Helen's insistence, we attended our first Contra Costa Civic Theatre presentation, "The Orchid Sandwich," starring talented Anne Haslett, another celebrity Helen met on the golf course. The intimate theatre at Blake and San Pablo in El Cerrito, now in its fifth year, attracts capacity audiences for all performances. A nice touch: after the final curtain call, actors and actresses come out in the lobby for coffee and chatting with patrons.

ALBANY POST 292, American Legion, attained a long-time goal of Publicist Walt Holland last week, when the new March of Dimes publicity handbook came out of New York with the picture of Walt Ellis and kids who played in the January March of Dimes game as an example of outstanding publicity. The picture originally appeared in the Oakland Tribune.

BERNICE BOYD had a surprise birthday party Oct. 9 (her birthday was Sunday, the 11th) when all her employees at Security Savings and Loan presented her with a cake and some cooking ware she had been planning to buy.

GUY DOLLAR, salesman for Jim Woulfe Ford, is gnashing his teeth. His son Bert (better known as "Butch"), 23, is catcher on the U.S. Olympics baseball team, currently competing in Tokyo, Japan. Guy hasn't heard a word from the potential celebrity since he left. "How can I give you a story when I don't know anything?" he asked. Father Guy added his son is now in the U.S. Navy's submarine squadron at Pearl Harbor.

POINT TO PONDER—We had a distressing report last week when we went to take pictures of the Cornell PTA ladies. After asking if they could possibly use their first names, rather than the usual newspaper manner of running their husband's names, they explained that after the picture was run last year, two of the three received lewd phone calls. According to police, there is quite a bit of this type of phoning going on in Albany. We try to be careful about listing addresses and reporting vacations when people return rather than when they leave just to prevent kookie or criminal actions, but this sort of throws the entire newspaper style book out the window. Do we have to make all women seem like divorcees or long-time widows to protect them from the nuts among us?

IT'S THAT TIME AGAIN—Don't forget to turn your clocks back an hour before you retire Saturday night. Now you can pick up that extra hour of sleep you lost last spring.

part of the stage curtains. It is not fireproof, he said, and could lead to a fire such as the All Hallows church fire in San Francisco last May.

"A lot of statements made are propaganda," Wilkins said. "School and city officials have not seen to it that our schools are safe."

When asked by Mayor Hein if he is sure the material hasn't been fireproofed, Wilkins displayed identical-looking samples of material, one fireproof, the other flammable. (Ed. Note: The Board of Education, at a meeting several months ago, authorized purchase of new, fireproof stage curtains and draperies at Marin and Cornell Schools. They are now being installed.)

Urges Padlocks
After criticizing the School Board for boarding up four buildings, Wilkins urged the Council to send Chief Browne to padlock Marin and Cornell auditoriums. He accused the school board and fire department of "bluffing the people."

Councilman Howell dismissed the charges as "just a way to get at the school bonds. . . . I think it is unfair to come before the Council and make accusations. A few months ago Albany received an award as one of the safest cities."

Johansen said, "I'm for good schools first, last and always," adding that in case of fire on the second floor of Marin and Cornell, "kids can't get out. There are no fire doors between first and second floors." He said there are no fire escapes on the second floor of Marin and Cornell.

(Ed. Note: Fire and panic safety work has been completed at both Marin and Cornell schools. Both comply with codes of the State Fire Marshal. Fire and panic safety work at Albany High School will be done if Measure B is approved by the voters Nov. 3.)

"I'm not trying to kill the bond issue," Johansen said. "I'm interested in safety."

Councilman Clark suggested this matter should be taken care of by the school board.

"I believe you don't realize the power of the school board," Johansen said. "In many cities, it is more powerful than the Council. Think about that!"

Councilman Joel Parker, Jr., said the Council and School Board are two distinct bodies elected by the people. "We have no jurisdiction over the school board," he said.

"You do have authority," Johansen countered. "You hire the fire chief!"

"All we've heard are innuendos about the school board and implied negligence of the fire department," Parker said.

Clark added, "The fire department and schools have done a good job."

The motion to have Chief Browne clarify the situation next Monday passed 4-0 with Councilman Joe Egenberger absent.

Other Business

In other, more routine matters Monday night, Council:

Approved payment of $3.73 to Don Butts for a hose borrowed from him during the weed burning program and lost; filed a communication from Clay Berling, chairman of Park and Recreation, announcing a public hearing on parking strips and street tree ordinance on Nov. 12; directed a resolution drawn detailing city responsibility and areas of no responsibility in the operation of University Village Pro-School;

Girl Scout Leaders To Meet Today

The Albany Neighborhood Girl Scout leaders hold their regular monthly meeting Wednesday, Oct. 21, 12:30 to 3:00, at the home of Mrs. Albert Willing, 722 Stannage Ave., Albany. Co-hostess is Mrs. John R. Jacobson.

Featured speaker is Miss Margaret McClellan, executive director of the San Francisco Bay Girl Scout Council, who will describe the financial structure of the Girl Scout organization.

Orientation and "get acquainted" meetings are also scheduled for all parents of Albany Girl Scouts at Marin auditorium this month. Parents and Scout leaders from Cornell and Vista school areas will meet Oct. 26 at 7:30; parents and leaders from Marin and MacGregor areas will meet Nov. 9.

A film on Scouting will be shown, fundamental purposes and exciting opportunities available to Girl Scouts will be described, and parents will meet with troop leaders to discuss individual troop programs.

Councilman R. O. Clark For Measure B

City Councilman Richard O. Clark supports passage of the School Bonds on Nov. 3. He stated:

"It is a primary responsibility of each Albany citizen to provide classrooms that are safe and functional. The best teacher and the most eager students can achieve only partial academic results in ancient, unsafe and inadequate structures.

"Let's not wait until after catastrophe strikes our children to provide buildings free from the dangers of fire and panic.

"The quality of local schools is important to families seeking new homes. A modern, well-equipped school system can only increase property values in Albany and enhance its reputation as a city of stable, forward-looking citizens.

"I urge a YES vote on the School Bonds, Measure B."

34th Anniversary Observed By Park and Shop Markets

Park and Shop Markets, originated by Frank Andronico at Prince and Telegraph three or four years later. The Solano Avenue market, which originally was set back from the street to make way for a junction for three trains which served the area, was demolished in 1950 to make room for the present store. During the depression, he kept the Solano Avenue store. He recalls that Solano Avenue "was half empty then."

Frank and his wife first started in the grocery business in Alameda about 1923. From that small beginning with only the couple to wait on customers, he is now president of three ultra-modern markets (2655 Telegraph in Berkeley, 1850 Solano in Berkeley, and 1200 Irving St., San Francisco), and employs about 150 people.

Head Nurse at Albany Hospital Honored On Retirement

Miss Georgina Coutts, head nurse on the day shift at Albany Hospital, was honored at a surprise retirement party last Friday in the hospital dining room.

A native of Aberdeen, Scotland, she received her nurse's training there. She spent some time working in the shipyards during the war.

Members of the staff, employees and physicians associated with the hospital presented Miss Coutts with a television set. The dining room was trimmed with Halloween decorations for the event, attended by about 50 guests.

of interrogation. He plans to train at least one of the men in his department to use Albany's machine.

"During the Judy Williamson case, we took about 20 people to Oakland Police Department's lie detector," Jensen said. "This will save us time in going back and forth and should cut down on interrogation time."

He added he considers it fortunate that this excellent course was available so close to home. It is available in New York City, Chicago and Los Angeles, places economically infeasible for schooling of Albany policemen, Jensen said.

Reserved seat tickets for 50 cents each may be obtained from the Committee for Arts and Lectures (TH 1-1170) and at the Student Union box offices on the campus. The concert is co-sponsored by C.A.L. and the Department of Music.

Because the horses, hay and implements are going to be moved from the Red Barn, 1742 Solano Ave., Berkeley, and the Barn demolished in the near future, the Albany High Twelve club has lost its happy home, where the club has held its Friday luncheons for 10 or more years.

Friday, Oct. 16, was the last luncheon meeting with Wyle Leach, the owner who is going to transfer his home and activities to Napa county.

In order that the club can meet at the regularly scheduled Friday luncheons, President Louis Stein announced that the group will meet at Kirby's in the El Cerrito Plaza on Fridays at noon. The first meeting there will be Oct. 23.

In moving to the Plaza, it is anticipated Masons living and having their business connections in El Cerrito will avail themselves of the hospitality of the Albany High Twelve Club.

Thanks For Writing . . .
Editor, the Times.
I understand President Lyndon B. Johnson was challenged to lift the lid of secrecy surrounding construction of a luxurious suite of offices for him in the new federal building in Austin, Texas.
F. Clifton White, National Director of the Citizens for Goldwater-Miller, defied "the man who turned off the lights at the White House" to let the American taxpayers inspect the lavish Presidential suite before the Nov. 3 election.
"If Lyndon Johnson is really serious about this economy kick, why is he spending hundreds of thousands of dollars on this Texas temple?" White inquired. "It's virtually impossible for anyone to get a look at this monument in marble, but I understand nothing built by the government will equal it in splendor."
"This magnificent hideaway was probably inspired when Maharajah Lyndon visited the Taj Mahal a couple of years ago. For a man who has been screaming for a poverty program in this country, he certainly doesn't believe in frugality where his own surroundings are concerned."
According to press reports, White said, considerable overtime is being paid to complete the luxurious suite before Nov. 3 so it will be available for a gala Johnson "victory" celebration on election night.
White said the original price for the Austin federal building was $7,350,000. But addition of the Presidential suite will boost the final cost to $10,000,000.
Among other posh appointments, the Johnson suite is being built with teak panels and one room features a fireplace large enough to accommodate 10-foot logs.
"The lights will have to be turned out at the White House for several centuries to pay for this kind of extravagance," White asserted.
Now, what really bugs me regarding this federal indebtedness, which will ultimately mean added taxes to pay for this "Taj Mahal," is how long can we taxpayers afford to keep our own home lights burning. Until Nov. 3? Senator Barry Goldwater has said "more meaningful action is needed to solve the problems of waste in government than reducing the light bills at the White House." In your heart you know he's right.

Modern Times GARAGE

In this day and age...
SHOULD GARAGES BE FORCED TO HIRE BLACKSMITHS?

No more than railroads should be forced to hire firemen on diesel freight locomotives where there are no fires to tend nor coal to shovel.

It would cost you money every time your car was in the garage if garages had to hire featherbedding blacksmiths.

And it costs you money every day in higher freight rates on the food and goods you buy because an old horse-and-buggy-days law requires California railroads to hire featherbedding firemen.

Proposition 17 repeals that costly, outmoded law. Proposition 17 makes it possible for California to put into effect the national transportation settlements—worked out by Congress and Presidents EISENHOWER, KENNEDY and JOHNSON—which eliminate wasteful featherbedding in the railroad industry under terms that insure maximum job protection, yet retain two men in the cab of all trains.

Keep California competitive...

SENIOR CITIZENS

846 Masonico

By Emma Claymore

The dinner, hosted by the Albany Lions Club and members of the Senior Center was a great success. The men from both groups demonstrated their skill in the kitchen. Women were guests. It was a good example of what can be accomplished when people of all groups work together. The Girl Scouts did their share in serving the dinner, after which all hands joined in folding and stuffing seals for the blind. Too bad there cannot be more togetherness like this in the world today. It would be a better place in which to live and certainly more peaceful.

The next social event at the Center will be the cribbage party on Tuesday, Oct. 27, from 1 p.m. to 4 p.m. followed in the evening by the Halloween Party from 7 to 10 p.m. There will be refreshments, games, etc., with prizes for the best costumes. Make your reservation with Minnie at 526-3078. Halloween time is always fun time at the Senior Center.

The seniors are happy to have their Director back from her vacation. She reports a wonderful time but found it much colder in the eastern states and is glad to be back to a milder climate. The craft classes on Wednesdays are making some very pretty items and expect to start on things for Christmas soon.

Following is the weekly schedule: Sundays, noon to 6 p.m., cards, self-service coffee. Mondays, closed. Tuesdays, 1 to 10 p.m., special events day. Wednesdays, 10 a.m. to 5 p.m., craft classes. Thursdays, 10 a.m. to 5 p.m., bingo, 10:30; singing, 11:30; lunch, 12, cards. Fridays, community service work, 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. Saturdays, closed. For further information call 526-1601.

Albany High School PTA Shindig, Dinner Nov. 21

On Saturday, Nov. 21 in Albany High School cafeteria, the PTA will again feature a delicious western dinner, followed by what promises to be a refreshing program of entertainment. These varieties will be presented by young performers under the direction of Jess Waller, well known businessman and philanthropist.

As usual in such affairs, variations will appear this year; such as, the "Cafeteria Style" service, which will start promptly at 5:30 p.m. and end at 7:30 p.m. The Shindig (variety show) will begin at 7:30 in the high school gym.

A new feature this year, a gift bar, with Mrs. James Robbins as chairman, combines unusual and charming items, invites attention before or after dinner. A second booth featuring jewelry will be under the chairmanship of Mrs. Robert McFadden.

Proceeds from this event will help meet the PTA annual budget, and for awarding extra scholarships for seniors, according to Mrs. Clyde Nottingham, budget and finance chairman.

Tickets are available from any PTA board member, priced as follows: Bar-B-Qued beef dinner, adults, $1.25; students, 75 cents; Shindig, 50 cents. Tickets for dinner and the Shindig may be purchased at the door.

How long has it been since you've been back to school?

It's true, times have changed since many of us were last in school... architecture, modern methods of education and the students themselves have changed. A solid education has never been so important to the youngsters living in your neighborhood!

Young families look for superior educational opportunities and other civic improvements when they consider buying a home in your community. Good school facilities improve your community's worth and help keep your property's value high.

Most new schools are financed through the sale of municipal bonds. These bonds distribute the cost over a long period to keep taxes at a reasonable level. Interest rates are decided by competitive bidding... added assurance that your community will get the lowest interest rates on their bonds.

Bank of America and its associated dealers bid on virtually all California state and municipal bonds... You can show your interest by voting in all municipal bond elections for community improvements.

Oakland Men Apprehended

Officer Robert Buck hit the jackpot Saturday night when he stopped Charles Howard, Jr., of Oakland at 619 San Pablo.

The car Howard was driving was registered to former Albany City Attorney Robert Foley. A check with Foley revealed he had sold it to Holiday Rambler in Oakland. It was quickly established that Howard had no business driving the car. And Oakland police wanted him for a traffic warrant with bail at $49 and violation of probation. The recovered automobile was valued at $3,000.

On the same night, but early Sunday (2 a.m.), the burglar alarm sounded from the club house at Golden Gate Fields. Officers Buck and Melvin Boyd responded, discovering Frank E. Washington of Oakland lying in the grass, covering two garment bags and a cloth bag with draw strings.

Officers noticed as they were questioning Washington that a late-model olive green Cadillac passed slowly on the freeway three or four times. They radioed Berkeley police, who picked up the occupants, Washington's wife, Dorothy, and Jeanette McDonald. Dorothy was wanted on an Oakland police department traffic warrant with bail at $56 and Jeanette was being sought by Richmond police on the same charge, same bail.

Police Chief Ralph Jensen was called out of bed at 3 a.m. to question Washington to determine how the women fitted into the picture. Washington refused to implicate them but did confess breaking in and where he had thrown the pry tool. He said he wasn't sure what he would take from the club house.

After Jensen completed his interrogation at 5 a.m., Washington was placed in a cell with bail set at $4,410. He has since been taken to Santa Rita.

As a former member of the Board of Education of the Albany Unified School District I would like to go on record as being in favor of MEASURE B, which would provide bonds for the betterment of Albany schools.

During the time I was on the school board plans were made to abandon what is now known as the Annex Building, formerly Herbert Hoover Junior High School. In its place was to have been the final addition to Albany High School financed with W.P.A. funds.

To expect a building built in the mid-20's to do a job in the mid-60's is almost unthinkable. We need more adequate buildings if our young people are going to have the kind of education needed today.

My three children attended Albany schools from kindergarten through the high school. At that time there were three schools, Marin, Cornell and Albany High School. Today, with five schools the average daily attendance is about three times as large. In view of the additional number of students graduating each year and going on to higher education, it is essential that greater facilities and opportunities be provided for them. For that reason I urge that you vote YES on MEASURE B on November 3.

Albany Post No. 292, American Legion, will have two events Saturday, Oct. 24.

The Post will accept the invitation of the El Cerrito Plaza Merchants Association (an event open to all fraternal and civic organizations) and set up a booth in the Plaza from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. This booth will be manned by Commander James Robins, Walter L. Holland and Harold Ogden for the purpose of distributing 50-star American Flag kits. This will be in keeping with the Department of California American Legion "A Flag in every home" drive. The fall family dinner for members and their families will be served Saturday night, starting with a social hour at 6:30 p.m. Chef Henry MacDuffee will have food on the table at 7:15 p.m. This fall family dinner event will tie in with the Post's membership drive to have the Post's membership quota on or before Veterans Day, Nov. 11. All members having their 1965 card will get a free feed and free food for any eligible veteran who will put in a membership application up to and including dinner time.

In an appeal from the Albany High School Band Boosters, Albany Post will appropriate $100 for this worthy cause. This is in keeping with the Post's community betterment and school programs.

Jeff Foott, Albany Youth, On Antarctic Assignment

Jeff Foott

One of Albany's most adventuresome youths, Jeff Foott, 21-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Foott of 635 San Gabriel, is off on an experience of a lifetime—service in the Antarctic as general program assistant for the Arctic Institute of North America.

Even before his graduation from Albany High School in 1961, Jeff was a member and instructor of the Sierra club, rock climbing section. He has climbed mountains in Yosemite, the Tetons and Yellowstone Park, often with people from all over the world who have come to conquer our mountains.

Jeff has been attending San Jose State, majoring in entomology. Last summer he completed a research project on insect habits at Yosemite.

On Sept. 13, Jeff left by air for Washington, D.C., for orientation at the National Science Building. After visiting the fair and an aunt in New Jersey, he left for Hawaii, where he went surfing on Waikiki beach. The next stop was New Zealand, where according to a note to his parents, he was waiting to leave for "the ice," McMurdo base at Ross Island, near the South Pole.

McMurdo Station is a key staging base for all research conducted in Antarctica, including upper atmosphere programs and a great number of biological studies. The Albany youth will do some office work in communications, help prepare field parties for their expeditions and help other staff members in the meeting and dispatching personnel throughout McMurdo Sound area and the inland station field study locations. He will live there through the end of February.

The scientific gathering in Antarctica is an international affair with about 200 scientists participating. Since the National Geophysical year in 1957, these gatherings have taken place each austral summer.

In a letter from the director of the Washington, D.C. Arctic Institute of America, his position is as follows: "The United States scientific effort in Antarctica is conducted by the United States Antarctic Program of the National Science Foundation, while responsibility rests with the United States Navy. Scientists who will be going to one of the more U.S. government programs. The United States is a great competition in prestige, particularly of scientific exploration. . . ."
